

Since this is a Thanksgiving --Christmas letter...

I want to say, on behalf of my Husband Paul and I ... a deep seated and grateful Word of thanks to you for helping us to get through this past year of 2022~2023... Your prayers of faith and your financial gifts of love have been our means of going on with hope in this old world ❤️

Paul has become almost normal again except for some bothersome Things like no tastebuds to enjoy food:(-Dry mouth !) and is lacking another shoulder operation :(which is a tough one. I Guess that's what ole folks do is talk about their ills! But in spite of these setbacks we are doing ok. I'm having issues with my heart but this last procedure I got, showed me there are NO blockages or obstructions in my heart ! Thank you Jesus.....!!!

I'm just now working thru a common cold and uncommon cough but my hubby makes sure I get my meds! It looks like our family will spend the day of Thanks at Lisa our Daughter's home! Christmas will be here at the home Front! We trust you have enjoyed the company of your loved ones- Our kids and grands have been very good to us for which we praise God! We have SO much to thank our God for! You are on our list before the Lord ❤️ ❤️

Thank you for another year where you have been part of the Ministry God has given us, amongst the tribe called volunteers and Paul and I -have abided by them ❤️ We have taken tests on line to stay current. Even a TB test had to be taken! That turned out well cause we got to meet another new employee at our local prison! This coming Monday we will have the privilege of having another Chaplain from Africa at our home for the first time! His accent makes it hard to understand him but we are hoping to be a blessing to him who is far from his home and family! We have experienced that a lot so we understand his loneliness in this country ! Speaking of that, we are in prayer for Israel and everything that goes on with them!

We will say goodbye now until another year...May the holidays bring joy and comfort to your souls in this end of 2023 ❤️ ❤️

Lovingly and with anticipation we will see you next year!!!
Expecting Jesus to come SOON.....!!!

LOVE, Paul & Pat Dye
